PROFILE

I am a strong communicator, with the creative and collaborative skills to be able to deliver projects on time and in budget. Having worked in the film industry since 2016, I am always looking to further my career by working on interesting projects with talented people. Throughout my career I have been able to strengthen my problem solving and visual presentation skills and am looking to apply these to even more challenging roles. I am currently based in London and able to work anywhere nationwide.
